Sarasota & Her Islands Offers Low- to No-cost Adventures This Summer

Sarasota, Fla. (June, 2009) – Sarasota & Her Islands, on the central west coast of Florida, is often recognized as a luxury vacation destination, but this high-end experience need not scare away those traveling on a budget this summer as the Sarasota Convention and Visitors Bureau announces its Free & Cheap Dozen list.

The list was created to highlight opportunities for vacationers to enjoy at little to no cost. “We realize that so many families still want to take a vacation, but may need to scale back their spending while enjoying some much deserved R and R,” said SCVB President Virginia Haley. “While they may need to scale back on spending, they don’t have to scale back on fun, quality time and memorable experiences because we’ve compiled at least a dozen things families can do to achieve it all.”

The Free & Cheap Dozen:

1. Feel the sand through your toes. - Sarasota & Her Islands have miles of white-sand beaches including Siesta Key beach, which was Dr. Beach’s number two beach in the country in 2009. Public beach access and parking are free. (www.sarasotafl.org)
2. Run away with the circus. - The circus is a dominate social and economic force that has evolved for more than a half-century in Sarasota County. The many sites and symbols of that long-standing and vibrant presence is available in a free Circus Heritage Guide. The Guide is
